PREFACE.

The following pages contain an attempt to afford to the Practitioner the guidance regarding the best mode of securing the full amount of the great help that the use of shorthand can afford him. Information is also given regarding its use by the Physician, and in the work of increasing Medical Knowledge. The latter applies equally to all forms of Scientific work.

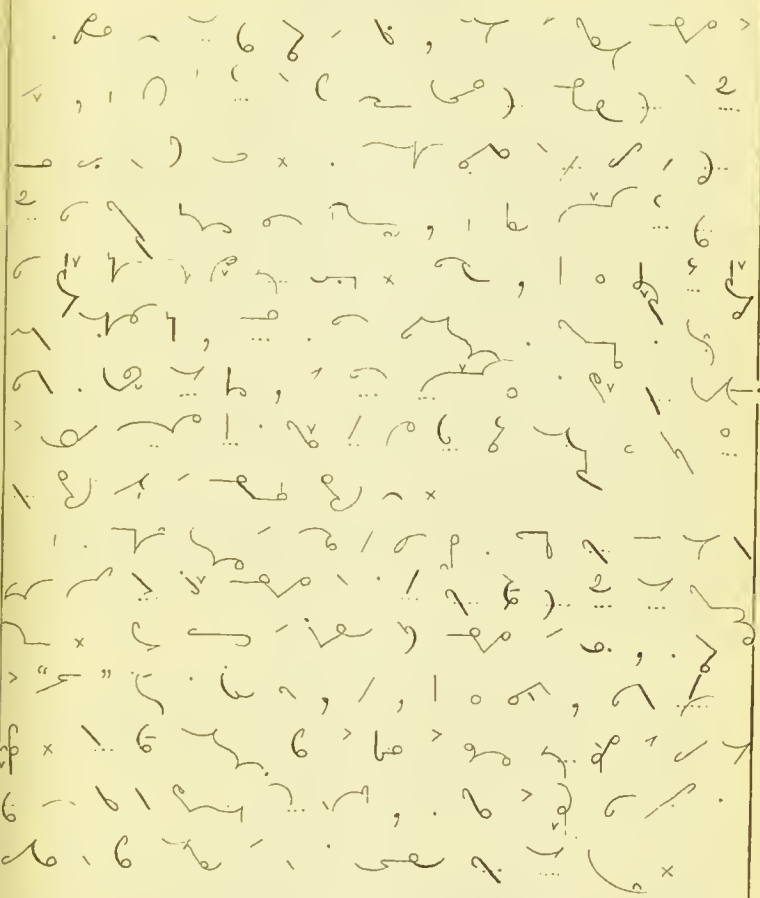
CONCLUSION.



THE SOCIETY OF MEDICAL PHONOGRAPHERS.

The Society continues to make gratifying progress. The number of members, 60 at the start in December last, is now 150. These are distributed as follows:—In London and the London district are 42 members; in England and Wales 65; in Scotland 24; in Ireland 7; in Europe (Switzerland) 1; in America (United States) 4; in Africa (South Africa 3, Egypt 1) 4; in Asia (India) 3. Edinburgh comes second to London with 10 members, Glasgow stands third with 6, Bristol follows with 5, then Dublin and Oxford with 4 each. Cambridge and Manchester have 3 members each. Aberdeen, Birkenhead, Birmingham, Bournemouth and Liverpool have each 2 members.

Under the guidance of Mr. Norman Porritt, the Evercirculators have become an important and popular department of the work of the Society. A large number of members have joined these magazines.

Members can do the Society great service by bringing it under the notice of their friends. Several members have joined lately who would have done so sooner had they been fully informed regarding the Society.

Pitman's Shorthand Instructor:

A Complete Exposition of Sir Isaac Pitman's System of Phonography or Phonetic Shorthand.

For Class or Self-Instruction. Containing instruction in both the Corresponding and Reporting Styles, with Lists of Phrases and Exercises. This work is designed to furnish, within the compass of a volume of handy size, a complete presentation of Phonography. The general plan of the "Instructor" makes it equally acceptable for self-tuition and for use under a teacher. Every part of the system is explained in the simplest and clearest manner possible; each principle is illustrated by exercises, and the student's knowledge is tested at succeeding stages by questions. In addition to leading the student by easy steps to the briefest style of Phonography, a large amount of matter is included which will familiarize him with a wide range of shorthand work. This presentation of Phonography, embodying as it does the accumulated experience of over 50 years, is the most complete and perfect Shorthand Text-Book that has ever been issued.

Bound in cloth, colored edges, 231 pages. Price 3s. 6d.
